

Autism Conference – exploring effective ways of working with autistic adults

April 4th 2019 Stonehouse Court Hotel, Gloucestershire, GL10 3RA

Complimentary event for World Autism Awareness Day, bringing together advocates, professionals and autistic individuals we support

Guest speaker Dr Steve Hinder

Consultant in the Psychiatry of Intellectual Disability, presenting; "Why taking account of the autism is so important".

Dr Victoria Vallentine

Consultant Clinical Psychologist, accomplish, presenting; "The value of adapting talking therapies for effective support".

Guest speaker Dr Glenys Jones

Autism Centre for Education and Research, University of Birmingham, presenting; "What is effective and how do we know?"

Sue Hatton

Autism Advisor, accomplish and Joe Parkin, presenting; "What helps me." Why getting to know the individual and their autism is so important to be able to offer effective support.

Benefits of attending

- To hear from both research and practice about effective ways of working.
- To gain a better understanding of what effective support means for autistic adults.
- To gain insight into the impact of autism in order to best support autistic people.

To register for your complimentary place please email events@accomplish-group.co.uk or call 07779 452354 alternatively you can visit our website www.accomplish-group.co.uk/autism-conference-2019

